In this story you are Mitos daughter but Gon considers you his older sister, anyways you've just come home from training under Kite to celebrate your 23rd birthday. (Btw this is like that little period where Gon brought killua home)

As the ship pulled into the harbor of Whale island you sighed with relief. You always got seasick and you were just over all happy to see your home city after 3 whole years. You had been invited to train with Kite several years ago when he had visited the island to check on Gon. You waited until you were 19 to go find Kite and train with him just to be sure you were ready. And finally when you felt your skills developed and knew the basics of nen you were ready to head home. Now here you were. You stumbled off the ship thanking the captain and then you raced home. You ran up to the door and knocked it was opened immediately by your mom, Mito.

Mito: y/n!! You're finally home!! I got your letter yesterday and couldn't leave the front door!
Y/n: oh mom, you're too much.

You remarked being squeezed tightly against her chest. It felt like you were suffocating but it felt so good to be held in her arms again.

Mito: Oh, you've gotten so tall sweetheart! You've filled out quite a bit too!

You blushed at the compliment.

Y/n: moooom... stop it!
Mito: Well let's not just stand here, get your butt inside.
Y/n: Has Gon come back yet? You know, from the exam?
Mito: Not yet but he wrote me recently.
Y/n: Me too.

You carried your bag up the stairs and set yourself down on your bed. Nothing had changed. Stuffing your head into your pillow you inhaled deeply, mom had washed it just for you.

It was still very early in the morning. 'I shouldn't sleep until tonight... it's kinda disrespectful to mom and grandma' You shot up as your mom bust through the door.

Mito: Don't think I'm going to ignore that stain on your top. You got seasick again. I've already drawn your bath go get in.
Y/n: but I just got-
Mito: 10, 9, 8...

You leaped up and dashed to the washroom. You swiftly undressed and sunk into the warm bath. Mother really knows what's best.

Y/n: No no mom! Let me do it! I've missed out on almost 4 years of laundry, it's my pleasure.

After washing your vomit stained T-shirt and everything else needing to be washed you start clipping the moist laundry on to the clothes line. You start to hear laughing. It's faint so you figure it's a few kids playing down on the beach. Shortly later the laughing has gotten closer and you identified two sets of feet running towards you. You considered activating your nen just in case to protect yourself. While contemplating this you're startled by some small arm squeezing your waist.

???: y/n!! You're actually finally home!!

You recognized this voice as Gon's. You lifted your arm and pulled away a little to signal him to let go. You wanted a good look at him. Why wouldn't you? You last saw him when he was like 9ish. He let go and you turned around. Bending down to his height you squeezed him and lifted him up.

Gon: y/n... you're hurting me... y/n!
???: Didn't you hear him hag?! Let go already!

Being called a hag pissed you off. You set Gon down and glared at the white haired idiot standing before you. You started releasing aura and got ready to fight someone.

Gon: y/n Wait!! That's my friend! That's killua!
Y/n: This white haired freak is Killua?
Killua: HAG!
Y/n: Polar Bear!
'Wait I shouldn't fight with a damn twelve year old.'
Y/n: I'm just playing, Kil. Can I call you that? I think I will.

Killua furrowed his brow and clenched his jaw. Only his family really called him that. Especially illumi. You tussled his hair.

Y/n: You're a real cutie Kil, you got a girlfriend yet?
Killua: Gon!! Does she know hisoka?!!
Y/n: I'm just playing Kil. I don't even know anyone by that name... but let's get inside, my mom has been dying to see you guys.
'God, Killua has such a stupid looking backpack' you thought to yourself.

You all headed inside to greet Mito and Grandma. As you walked in the door you felt a cold glare on your back and looked behind you. There was nothing it must've been nerves or something.

Illumi sat in the tree with Hisoka watching you guys walk inside the house.

Hisoka: she doesn't know of me hm?~
Illumi: hm

He hummed in response, his eyes fixated on the window of your bedroom which you had just entered.

Hisoka: oh so you've only showed up to stalk the precious thing?~
Illumi: that's not it.
Hisoka: Then why are we here hm?~
Illumi: Kil is obsessed with his little green haired friend. If I take away his sister the boy will do anything to have her back...
Hisoka: anything?~
Illumi: anything I want. Not you. He'll have to bring Kil home if he wants her alive.
Hisoka: I think I want to add a condition~
Illumi: No.

Illumi brushed strands of his hair behind his ears and leaned back. Hisoka laid out cards in the form of poker and gave Illumi his hand of cards face down.

Hisoka: Don't worry about me cheating it's just to pass the time.~

You went to your room and sat at your desk. Pulling out the stationary kit that someone from the town gave you to keep in touch before going to train with kite. The truth is you only ever wrote letters to mom and Gon with the kit on birthdays and holidays so it was still pretty well stocked. You ripped a piece of paper from the notepad and pulled the pen from behind your ear and got writing to Kite.

Dear Kite-san,
I made it home safe and sound. Well except from the part where I vomited all over my shirt. Mom is doing well and Gon showed up too! He brought a friend with him who gives off a terrifying aura. Ever since he arrived I've been feeling watched. Anyways write me back. If I don't write you back I've probably been kidnapped haha.
Love, y/n (he's like family to you btw)

You seal the letter in an envelope and add a stamp. 'I'll send it tomorrow' you think to yourself. You smell dinner wafting into the room and rush down stairs. Gon and killua are already at the the table along with mom and grandma.

Y/n: Sorry guys I was writing to my teacher so he knew I was ok.
Mito: Kite, right?
Y/n: yep. Thanks for the food by the way mom.
Mito: No problem I thought it'd be nice to have something special before the big day tomorrow.

Killua: Big day?
Gon: Y/n's birthday! She's turning 23!

Killua looked flustered

Killua: So that stunt you pulled earlier was practically a whole case!
Mito: y/n...
Y/n: It was a joke ma!

You all finished dinner and you offered to wash dishes to make up for years of missing chores and then went up to your room. You started to undress but that feeling of being watched filled you again. You picked up your pajamas and went to change in the bathroom. You undressed into your under pieces and decided to wash your face to shake the feeling of being watched. You hear the door and open and a high pitched yelp. All you saw in the mirror was a white flash of hair.

Y/n: KILLUA!!!

You scream. You get dressed and walk down to Gon's bedroom. You knock softly on the door to convince him it's your mom.

Gon: Come in Aunt Mito!
Y/n: Killua!!!

You scream his name as you bust in. Killua jumps and falls off the bed.

Killua: it was an accident!
Y/n: no no I understand, your urges...
Killua: y/n- ew...
Y/n: I'm just playing

You return to your room and open the window. The house gets so warm this time of year. You crawl into bed and softly stare out the window across from your bed until you turn the lamp off and drift off to sleep.

Hisoka: Illumi~

Illumi had fallen asleep waiting for you to fall alseep. Illumi was a light sleeper so Hisoka's weird cooing awoke him.

Illumi: is it time?
Hisoka: She even left the window open for us~
Illumi: that makes it slightly easier...

The quietly crept toward the house. They were able to climb up the trellis below your window and from there Hisoka was able to give illumi a boost into your window. (Keep in mind that stacked on top of each other they're like 12'3")

Illumi loomed over you menacingly. He then used a needle to sedate you so you'd stay asleep. He placed a needle and a playing card on your desk as a signature and wrote "come home Kil" on your desk in sharpie. He then picked you up gently and looked out the window Hisoka stood with his arms out to catch you. Illumi tossed you into Hisoka's arms and then hopped out the window. Hisoka tossed you over his shoulder and they headed to the port to make their way to the zoldyck residence.

???: You've got a girlfriend dear?
???: obviously he doesn't. she's clearly unconscious, he's going to kill her.

So many different voices played as you drifted in and out of consciousness. You felt cold metal being wrapped around your limbs for a short time of consciousness. You passed out again. A needle was removed from your neck not being enough to fully awake you. You were fully awakened by what felt like a huge paper cut to your leg. Your eyes opened slowly the first thing you saw was a woman with an incredibly small waist but as your eyes focused you realized it was a man. He grabbed your chin and lifted it.

???: The precious thing is too weak to fight Illumi~
Illumi: We aren't trying to fight her Hisoka
Hisoka: what a bore~

Hisoka wrapped his arm around your waist pulling you as close as your shackles would allow. You became very frightened and jerked out of his grip. Screaming as loud as you could for help.

Hisoka: Keep screaming. It won't get you out of here~

And you did. You screamed for approximately 2 hours. All the two did was sit there and play go fish. They were clearly unfazed. Psychopaths...

Y/n: WHAT THE HELL DO YOU WANT FROM ME?!

Your throat got a lump but you wouldn't cry. You couldn't. Illumi stood up. He walked over to you, a shuddering mess on the floor. He kneeled down and stared at you expressionless.

Illumi: I want Kil. He has to come home and run the family business.
Y/n: Family busi-

You began having a coughing fit. Illumi grabbed a glass of water from where he was originally sitting and came back. Grabbing the back of your head he poured some water in your mouth.

Y/n: You filthy- you think your water will make me forgive you?!
Illumi: We need Kil to become the next #1 Zoldyck assassin.

You choked on the water Illumi continued pouring in your mouth. You were being held hostage in the Zoldyck household?! Gon was best friends with the next Zoldyck heir?! Illumi awkwardly patted your back to help and kept talking.

Illumi: since your kid brother claimed he'd do anything for the ones he loves I've kidnapped you. If he wants you back he'll give me Killua.
Y/n: You sick bastard! You-

Illumi tilted your head again to give you more water. You despised him but your throat was aching.

Y/n: and what if Gon doesn't come for me?
Illumi: Then you join my family as an assassin.
Y/n: you don't want me! I hardly know nen, just the basics!
Illumi: ...
Hisoka: She has resilience, no?~
Illumi: ...
Hisoka: so maybe you help her develop her special nen ability? You know just in case...~
Illumi: ...more useful than keeping her chained up.

He stood an signaled at Hisoka that it was time to leave. Hisoka walked out first and illumi stopped at the door.

Illumi: we train tomorrow morning. Rest up.

Gon, Killua, Mom and Grandma bust into your room. They're holding your cake and the presents they got for you.

All: HAPPY BIRTHDAY Y/N!!!

Killua and Gon scanned the room for you and the cake hit the ground when they saw the card and needle. They moved to the desk releasing enough aura to protect themselves just in case. They read illumi's writing on the desk.

Mito: Boys- Did she run off?

They made eye contact knowing that's the story on they'll go with. Then turned to nod at your mom.

Gon: But we promise we'll find her!

Mom walked over to hug Gon. They did that cute sing songy pinky promise thing and Gon and Killua got ready to go get you back.

As they headed down the path through the woods they decided they'd need all the help they could get. They needed to go get Kurapika and Leorio.

Once they left you were finally able to cry and when you did you sobbed like crazy. You were scared they'd kill you and you were scared Gon would die trying to save you.

Suddenly the heavy door was being unbolted. Quickly you wiped your tears and stopped crying. A young girl entered the room, maybe 14 she looked strangely masculine. I'm her hand was a glass of water and a small tea cake. She placed them down and turned on her heel leaving quietly. You quickly chugged the water and ate the cake.

'Some birthday' you thought. You grabbed the thin quilt beside you and dozed off for the night.

You were awoken by soft shaking. Illumi met your heavy eyes. You leaped back startled but didn't hear the clatter of your shackles. You looked puzzled.

Illumi: you're not strong enough to train with shackles on.
Y/n: ...bastard

You muttered rubbing sleep from your eyes and sitting up. He just kind of stared at you not trying to be frightening just staring.
Illumi: Come.

You were no idiot. Standing up, you trailed after him through their large home. You were greeted by his mother who seemed nice enough. 'Are they really the zoldycks?'

You guys made your way outside to the forest. You just stood in a clearing. You were not an idiot so you didn't try running away. He stood and just stared for a moment before saying...

Illumi: please take off your dress.
Y/n: m-my dress?
Illumi: it'll be easier to move
Y/n: but-
Illumi. Now.

His tone became firm and you were not about to die over a damn outfit. You turned around and took off the dress. You were standing in your shorts and a bra. Illumi didn't seem to mind.

Illumi: Now let's work on that aura.

Illumi goes over nen and explains it all and how you can have a condition and vow and all that. You do the leaf in the water thing and get Conjurer. (Yay□□♀□)
Then you guys do physical training until the sun begins setting.

Illumi: That's enough for the day.

You go to pick up your dress to find it's all muddied up. Frowning you follow Illumi feeling completely exposed. But as you walk into the house the girl is there. The girl from before. Illumi says a few things to her and she walks away. You stand beside him hating every inch of him for exposing you like this. Then, the girl returns with a nice night gown and what looks like clothes for the next day.

Illumi: Thanks kalluto. Come girl.

Illumi waited outside the "dungeon" for you to change. You knocked on the door from inside to let him know he could come in. He shackled you again and left without a word. About an hour passed when you heard the door open. You were curled up in a blanket trying to rest so you didn't bother turning around. The sound of heels clicking grew closer until the stopped right behind you. You turned around and sat up to see Hisoka.

Hisoka: Care to play cards?~

You wanted time to pass quicker but he really freaked you out. Besides you only knew how to play go fish. Hisoka was doing card magic tricks while waiting for you response.

Hisoka: Well?~
Y/n: I only know Go Fish...

You were embarrassed by your little knowledge of card games.

Hisoka: Go fish it is then~

(He's obviously cheating in even go fish)

After the game he got up and started to leave the room. He left his cards for you to keep entertained. He blew out the one candle that kept the room dimly lit and left the room.

(Sorry there's a little bit of y/n Hisoka shipping he just a flirt 😏)

11

Here you are out on the field with Illumi before dawn. You're sick of him acting like you can't fight. You've been sparring for about a week now and you can tell he's holding back. You're taking a break after a close combat fight when you decide to confront him.

Y/n: Illumi!
Illumi: hm??
Y/n: You're holding back every time we spar!! I'm not weak you know?!

Illumi sighed as he climbed out of the hole he dug to cool off.

Illumi: I'm a top tier assassin, I've been fighting and killing since the age of 4. If I use my full power you won't make it out alive and then I'll never get Kil back.
Y/n: I promise I won't die! Just give me a damn challenge.
Illumi: I guess I can just have you healed if something super horrible happens...

He sighed in disappointment. You guys got into fighting position and the fight began. You were able dodge several of his attacks. You think you're finally ready to try your special personal nen ability. As you're conjuring a jade dagger, Illumi shoots a needle into your wrist. It went directly into a huge blood vain. This disabled you from focusing nen into that hand. You look at your wrist astonished and next thing you know three needles enter your body. One in each leg and one into the back of your neck. You fall to the ground and black out with illumi looming and doing his wide eyed stare over you.

Like when you first arrived, you're drifting in and out of consciousness again. Except this time the room you're in doesn't change. It's not the dungeon though because the room is clearly well lit. Every time you're conscious illumi is next to or standing over you.

Finally you're fully conscious. You notice another hand in yours. It's illumi's. This made you feel flustered and a little embarrassed. So, you pulled your hand away, trying not to be rude you pretended to be inspecting your bandaged wrist. Illumi didn't seem to care, he looked interested in his book. You then looked around the room. It was very very nice. It looked overall very expensive.

Y/n: I-is this still the same house?

Illumi finally seemed to notice you were awake. He closed his book and set it down.

Illumi: Yes.
Y/n: why am I outside the isolation room?
Illumi: Well, after that display of strength yesterday, I think I can consider you as more of an opponent than a hostage.
Y/n: oh.

Illumi stood up and took his book too. He headed to leave the room.

Y/n: um, where are you going?
Illumi: I've been hired to assassinate someone far away. So, I'll be gone a few days. Don't even consider escaping. Let Gotoh know if you need anything.

And then he left. You couldn't help but realizing how pretty he actually was. He obviously took good care of his hair and the jet black hair that flowed from his head contrasted well with his pale skin.

You tried to get up out of bed. Your legs were weak and it was hard to hold your weight. You fell a few times and were finally able to reach the door. You stepped out and were greeted by the mother and Kalluto having tea. They invited you to sit with them.

13

You sat on the floor by the fire while their mom brushed your hair. This was weird to you, why where assassins giving you food and a nice room and brushing your hair? You decided it wouldn't hurt to ask.

Y/n: um, Mrs. Zoldyck? Why are you guys treating me so well?
Kikyo: Aside from the fact that you're a sweet girl, we need you in top condition if Killua is to come home, dear.
Y/n: But you could've killed me at any moment and lied to Killua as if I was alive.
Kikyo: We usually only kill when it's necessary.

You sighed with relief and relaxed. How was she not pulling your hair while brushing it?

Kikyo: You have lovely hair dear...
Y/n: Thank you ma'am.

Kikyo finished your hair and dismissed you to your bedroom, which you had trouble finding and Gotoh had to teach you landmarks so you could find it on your own next time. :p

You laid awake for most of the night hoping Gon was on his way to rescue you. You eventually gave up on sleep and got out of bed. You tried to focus your aura into you hand again. It took multiple tries but you finally conjured a rose quartz dagger (promise I'll explain your ability later) the rest was easy for you. You were excellent when it came to wielding a bladed weapon. Practicing your ability had worn you out and you were finally able to rest at about 3am.

[image]

8 days had passed and you were getting slightly concerned about Illumi, just since he said he'd be back soon and you needed to train. You were sitting at tea with Kikyo and Kalluto again. You were drinking (your favorite tea) it was truly nice of them to ask your favorite and then make it for you. Each day made you feel less and less like a hostage.

Y/n: um Ms. Kikyo?
Kikyo: Yes dear?
Y/n: do you know if illumi will be coming back soon?
Kikyo: He should be coming home today dear. Why?
Y/n: oh nothing, he just promised we'd train again when he returned.

A few hours later Gotoh is teaching you how he does his coin trick. It's so confusing but you're having fun learning. Then you hear the door open behind you and see illumi's pretty black hair swoosh into the room as you turned around. You hopped over the back of the couch and hugged him without really thinking about it. He raised his eyebrows in shock and kinda just looked at you. You pulled away, super embarrassed. Your arms felt wet and you looked down at them. You looked back up at illumi to see he was pretty injured.

Illumi: oh this?

He looked down at his bloodied torso.

Illumi: it's nothing, it happened like two days into my mission.
Y/n: Can I look at it? I worked on healing people often back home.

Illumi gestured for you to follow him. You walked with him and entered a horribly lit room. It was cold but smelled like charcoal and rosemary.

Illumi: this is the attic. I sleep here.

Y/n: I figured

You suppressed a giggle at how blunt he was. You pointed to his bed for him to sit down. He sat down as you grabbed the pitcher of water and went to go warm it up.

When you came back you held the roll of bandages between your teeth, bandages in your injured hand and the heavy pitcher of water in the stronger one. You set everything down on the dresser. You were embarrassed to ask the question but you needed to in order to help his wounds. You cleared your throat.

Y/n: would you uh mind taking off your uh top? I just need to be able to tend to your wounds...

He took of his vest and shirt that was too torn to salvage. He laid back with his legs hanging off the bed. You dipped a rag into the water and pressed it against one of the wounds on his abdomen. It soaked the blood up and you moved to the next wound.

Y/n: You went 6 days like this and still successfully killed your target?
Illumi: Correct.

You felt your face getting red the more you tended to his wounds. You wrapped his chest in bandages and left the room without a word.

When you entered your room you did a little happy dance and hopped into bed.

15

Leorio: Why do you three need to involve me in this?
Killua: Because we're talking about my brother here. The older more experienced assassin? You know, the one from the hunter exam?
Leorio: And do you expect me to fight him?
Gon: Just in case she's hurt she might need your medical skills.
Leorio: She?!

Kurapika smacked his palm to his forehead. At least he was willing to help now. Killua also looked disappointed but Gon was so excited to get you back.

Kurapika: So what's the plan?
Killua: He wants Gon to turn me in, in exchange for me Gon gets his sister back. So, I show up at home and they'll let me in immediately. Then, you guys defeat that guard Canary.
Gon: Then, illumi will give my sister back.
Leorio: Are you sure he'll stick to his word?
Killua: Positive.

Leorio went to pack his medical kit and everyone made their way towards the Zoldyck residence.

Gon: WAIT!
Kurapika & Killua: what?
Gon: We need to train some more. I have faith that she's ok and I think we need to be strong enough to fight if we need to.
Killua: I agree. Can you teach us that trick you do with your nen Kurapika?
Kurapika: I guess it couldn't hurt...

16

You made illumi rest that week, replacing his bandages daily to avoid infection. You got to learn more about him as you'd sit by his bedside and change his bandages. He explains the past of his family and how he grew up to you (ep 141) One day, you're changing his bandages and he grabs your injured wrist.

Illumi: Your nen ability, could you explain it to me? I saw you activating it in our most recent fight.

You felt a blush creeping up your face.

Y/n: Sure, but I kinda need this hand.

He grabbed the other but freed your injured one. He held your hand as you began to explain.

Y/n: Well growing up I was very good at wielding blades weapons, but my specialty was a dagger. Also growing up I had a fascination with gemstones and crystals. So I chose to combine the two. My main three stone daggers I can make are Rose quartz, which blinds my opponent by love for about an hour. Then, there's the jade dagger. This one is quite simple it just turns the spot of the body it enters green and numbs that part of the body for a while. Lastly, there's probably the most dangerous one. The obsidian dagger.

You conjured an obsidian dagger into your hand.

Y/n: um this one, no matter where it's inserted, aims for the heart and turns it to obsidian, ultimately stopping it
Illumi: Impressive.

You scooted back onto the bed and opened the book you'd been reading to him and continued reading it to him again. You were so invested in the book you didn't bother to moves illumi's hand or notice him smiling for once while he looked at you.

Y/n: The end.

You closed the book. Illumi said nothing but didn't let go of your hand. He already had another book in hand. You don't really say anything as you awkwardly scoot towards illumi and nervously lay your head down on his chest. He lifts his arms awkwardly and stares at you. He rests an arm down on you and continues his book.

17

[image]

You awoke to sun flooding the window for the first time in almost a month. Your room in the Zoldyck home wasn't facing the sunrise. Illumi was still there but he was asleep. This was probably the first time you'd seen him close his eyes. You sat up and started to get out of the bed when illumi awkwardly moved his hand to free you. You felt kinda bad but today you had plans for the two of you. After you got up he rolled over and went back to sleep. You tucked some hair behind his ear and left the room.

You explained your plans for the day to Kikyo and she insisted on letting you borrow a dress from her and she also wanted to do you hair. After she finished your hair she gave you a dress from her teen years and said the colors fit her son's personality. You laid the dress out on your bed got the things you needed for your picnic.

You came back into the house after setting up the picnic and prepared illumi some breakfast. You made him black coffee and some buttered toast (he's bland ik) You brought his breakfast to him and he was already awake reading. You set the breakfast down on his lap with a proud smile.

Y/n: The doctor has cleared you.

You joke with a smile. He just kind of stares at you and gestures for you to come closer. You step closer and lean over so you're at his level. He just pats your head awkwardly.

Y/n: Hey, meet me outside the estate when you finish your coffee and toast. I want to do something.

He nods as you walk out the room.

You enter your bedroom and pat your head mimicking what he did over and over. You finally put the dress on and you feel gorgeous in it.

(I'm not saying y/n is white or whatever it's just the model. :D)

18

You greeted Illumi when he made it outside. He was wearing that same zip up hoodie from when he was younger. He followed you into the forest and in your usual training area was where you had set up a picnic area for the two of you.

Y/n: You like it?

He kinda tries smiling but just ended up patting your head like before. This made you happy since you could tell he was trying to smile.

You guys ate your picnic food and illumi laid his head on your lap being as awkward as ever. You braided little parts of his hair as he read his book. He sets his book down and gets up. He grabs your hand and pulls you up.

Illumi: I want to show you something.
Y/n: ok ok

He was kinda dragging you and you could tell he was excited to show you what he wanted to. You came across a pond where he kneeled. He took off his jacket and reached his arm inside the water. He pulled out a frog which he showed you. Looking so proud he caught one, you patted his head like he did to you earlier. Suddenly the frog leaped at you which caught you off guard and you fell into the pond. It was shallow so you were just sitting in a muddy pond with a frog perched on your chest. Illumi looked so guilty and immediately lifted you out of the pond.

He carried you inside the house and kept muttering sorry as he brought you to the bathroom. He put you down as he drew you a bath.

Y/n: It's ok I'm not mad. You don't have to run me a-

He pressed his hand to your lips to silence you. He pointed to the bubble bath and then covered his eyes as he waited on you to get in. He then washed your hair and gave you a nice scalp massage (😏 yes) He kissed your forehead and then You were scooped out of the bath and wrapped in a towel. He carried you to his room...

(Y'all gonna have to leave this up to ur imagination but the next chapter will be some spicy head cannons to boost ur imagination you can skip it if you want)

19 (spicy headcanons) (optional)

• Highly into breath play

• Goes as long as he wants but afraid to hurt you

• Praises you constantly

• scratches his name into your back each time

• Got a thing for hair pulling but it's his hair

(The way I felt writing this bounced around 🥵)

20

Gon: I think we're ready!
Killua: I agree.
Kurapika: Same here.

They turned since there was no word from leorio. He was passed out on the floor even though he hardly did any work. Killua walked over and kicked him.

Killua: Get up already!
Leorio: watch it!

They all headed towards the mountain and caught the train up to the Zoldyck estate. They all say together and Killua debriefed them on illumi's power once more

Killua: He can make people pass out, he can control their minds, kill them and even steal their identities by transforming into them. All this with his simple little needles. You saw this during the hunter exam.
Gon: I didn't-
Killua: it wasn't even impressive.
Leorio: Kinda was...

Killua shot him a death glare and leorio pretended as if he hadn't said a word.

(I can never keep chapters with these 4 that long it's just to boring)

21

You lie there with Illumi trying to match his breathing pattern as he slept peacefully. It had to have been around 3 in the morning. You needed to make your way to your bedroom for clothes and then you'd come back. You sat up and crawled out of bed. Illumi stirred in his sleep and you patted his head and gave him a kiss on the forehead

Y/n: sorry, I'll be right back.

You whispered. You wrapped yourself back into your towel and swiftly made your way to your room. Staring at your bed you realized how long it'd been since you slept there. You changed into your nightgown and hurried back to illumi's room and crawled back into bed.

You were awoken hours later by illumi getting up to open his door. He opened the door just a sliver and was greeted by Gotoh. They were talking on a very low tone and you couldn't make out what they were saying. You pretended to sleep though. You didn't want him thinking you were eavesdropping. He shut the door and got dressed. He then walked over and poked you softly as to wake you up. You sat up and he extended his hand for you to grab. He pulled you out of bed and opened the door.

Y/n: Where are we going?

He didn't reply. He seemed upset with you, or someone. He just seemed upset. He held tight to your waist as you both made your way to the sitting room. He then let go as you crossed the threshold. Sitting there was Gon, Killua and two other people you didn't recognize. You were so happy to see Gon that you rushed at him and hugged him tight. You cried a little. Not because of how you were treated, you were just happy. Your heart sank when you realized what happened now. Illumi sat across from the four and you went to sit beside him. He grabbed your waist again. You sat there feeling lost, upset, and confused. The four stared at illumi holding on to you.

Illumi: Welcome home Kil.
Killua: tch. Just give the girl to us.

He let go of your waist and put his hands in the air but you didn't move.

Illumi: come get her.

Leorio got up and grabbed you by the waist to pull you off the couch. You dug your nails into the cushions trying to fight him. Illumi sat there looking slightly remorseful. You continued to fight leorio as he held you back and they made the exchange. By now you were sobbing.

Y/n: Let me go!! You bastard!!! LET ME GO!
Kurapika: calm down. You're under mind control.

The 4 of you left while Killua stood there with illumi.

Y/n: ILLUMI!!! DONT LET THEM TAKE ME!!!

Illumi turned around with Killua as the front doors closed.

22

The train ride was quiet except for Leorio's multiple attempts at asking if you were hurt. Everyone was thinking the same thing but too afraid to ask you. You could hear them whispering about you but didn't care one bit.

Leorio: Should we get her checked out in a hospital?
Gon: i don't think she's injured or anything I just think something happened in that house.
Kurapika: she obviously formed a bond with her kidnapper. We waited about a month in a half to rescue her.

After another train ride and a boat ride you had made it to whale island. Leorio picked you up and carried you to the house. Your mom was excited to see you but Kurapika told her you couldn't see her yet. They laid you down on your bed and just sat there.

You refused meals and any questions they tried asking you. 'Had illumi really just played with my feelings and made me feel like more than a hostage to patronize me??' You were convinced he used you and felt so incredibly stupid. Someone knocked on the front door and your moms voice made it up to your room.

Mito: It's for you Gon.
Gon: Coming!!

He went to the door and came shortly after. But there was an extra set of footsteps. Leorio and Kurapika went into the hall for a moment and came back. You sat up with excitement knowing illumi had come for you. To your disappointment it was just Killua.

Y/n: why're you here? How'd he let you go?
Killua: Illumi? Well I-
Kurapika: Don't.
Killua: I killed Illumi to escape.

23

You leaped out of your bed onto Killua. You were blinded with rage and pain. You were able to land a few punches

Killua: Hey! HEY! GET HER OFF!!

Kurapika and Leorio lifted you by your arms off of killua. They held tight onto you so Killua could get up. Kurapika chained your arms on the bed frame so that you couldn't pounce on Killua and you could calm down. You had finally calmed down enough to speak.

Y/n: You're lying Killua...
Killua: Am not.
Y/n: Tell the truth!

You screamed, you knew he was lying. How could he look you in the eyes like that and say these things.

Y/n: You damn liar...
Killua: it's the truth.
Kurapika: He can't hurt you anymore, it's ok to tell us what happened to you. What'd he do to you?
Y/n: ...he never hurt me at his own will...
Leorio: The wound in your wrist shows a very small entrance wound to a major vessel. A needle.

You turned away from them.

Y/n: We were training. I asked him to use his full potential during our combat.

Killua gestured for everyone to leave the room. They stepped into the hall to have a quick chat. They dropped their voices too low to hear.

Killua: Something obviously happened with my brother that she's not saying.

Kurapika: it must be important if she refuses to say anything.
Gon: You think he's mind controlling her?
Killua: No, when he does this mind control thing they're like vegetables. They can't feel emotions at that point.
Gon: if you didn't actually kill him, how did you escape ?
Killua: he wasn't really pressuring me to do anything and when I said I was leaving he didn't even respond.
Gon: Do you think they're friends?
Killua: Maybe they're partners. He may have taken her on missions with him.
Kurapika: I'm not sure, but something is definitely wrong.

They re-entered the room. Killua kept quiet and sat in the corner.

Y/n: Ready to tell the truth?
Killua: I give up. How did you know?
Y/n: He told me. He told me none of you were allowed to kill inside the family.

Killua looked shocked. Why would he have told you something like that?

24

After that you completely came undone. You told them all about how well he treated you and how you developed feelings for him and how you kind of felt like he did too. You knew he absolutely did though. You told them all about how he trained you. Killua looked shocked.

Y/n: Your turn Killua. Tell me how you really got out.

Killua: Well after the exchange was made, I planned on tying him up and escaping but he didn't sleep. He was always outside at the pond so I couldn't escape. He hardly acknowledged me so I just left. He didn't follow me or anything.

You sat up and hung your feet off the edge of the bed. You sighed.

Y/n: Would you be upset if I went back on my own Gon? I want to pursue assassination with Illumi.
Gon: If that's what makes you happy...
Y/n: THANK YOU! THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

You hugged Gon and leaped out of bed. You packed your suitcase and went to say goodbye to Mito. You dashed to the harbor to catch the next ship out of town.

25

You stood in front of the gates and the guard let you in. You pet Mike (guard creature) and rushed to the front door. You slammed the doors open.

Y/n: I'm home Zoldycks!!!

You were greeted by Gotoh who volunteered to put your things in your room and Kikyo hugged you. You still didn't see illumi. You knew where to find him though. You walked outside to the training space in the woods. Your space. Sure enough there was a hole dug into the ground. You saw illumi asleep inside. You reached inside to pat his head. He looked up at you. He looked a little surprised. Next thing you knew he had dragged you into the hole and had you tight in his arms.

Y/n: I missed you too. I promise I won't leave again.
Illumi: swear?
Y/n: on my life.

He reached into his pocket and handed you a small box with a nice silk ribbon. Inside was a beautiful pressed pansy which had been added to a small frame.

Y/n: this is gorgeous. Is this from your last mission?
Illumi: Indeed it is, darling.

Him calling you darling gave you butterflies and made you blush all the way to your ears. He embraced you again.

Y/n: Thank you, my love.

You whispered in his ear as you held on to him.

26

After that you joined Illumi in all of his missions and you were known as the best assassination duo after only 3 years. You were happy and definitely very satisfied with your new life. You taught illumi how to cook and braid his own hair. He taught you how to efficiently catch frogs how to persevere with wounds when on a long mission. Illumi took over killuas place as the heir with your help. One day Silva decided to confront Illumi about your fame.

Silva: You've made quite the name for yourself my son.
Illumi: well thanks to y/n-
Silva: That's what I need to speak with you about. I'm proud of the two of you but you're basically putting the Zoldyck name in second place.
Illumi: How so?
Silva: She isn't a Zoldyck son.
Illumi: oh.
Silva: You want to marry her don't you son?

Illumi nodded.

Silva: Seeing as you've become the next Zoldyck heir, you'll need to keep the family going anyways, I'll approve of it.

Silva handed Illumi a ring. Illumi left with the ring in his pocket. He knew exactly how he wanted to propose to you. It was perfect in his mind and he was very excited.

27

Illumi woke you up early that morning. This meant you guys had another mission. You knew the procedure by now. You dressed and you both left before sun up.

On the way illumi explained the mission and where you needed to go. Sure enough you arrived in a flower field with a weeping willow.

Y/n: that's where the target is?
Illumi: Yep.
Y/n: it's awfully prettier than our other mission locations.

You guys made your way to the tree but there was nobody there. You climbed every branch to look. You even activated In (I think that the seeing one :p)

Y/n: Baby, nobody is here. Are you sure this is the right spot.
Illumi: We have to wait here for them.
Y/n: that makes more sense.

You guys sat on the ground underneath the tree waiting for your target. Finally a couple dressed very fancily came into view. You guys scaled the tree and sat in the highest branch. You conjured an obsidian dagger to get straight to the point. The couple was setting up a picnic. Once they'd set up their blanket illumi gave the signal and you jumped them. Killing them wasn't hard.

You guys had a seat on the blanket and unpacked the food they'd brought.

Y/n: We earned it.

You smiled and enjoyed the food that was made for the couple. Just like every mission Illumi slid a small box at you as a gift. Every gift he got you made you so happy. You undid the ribbon and opened the lid. Inside was a gorgeous diamond ring. You gasped. You looked at him. He was actually really smiling.

Y/n: Yes! Absolutely 100 times yes!!!

You planted a kiss on his lips and tried on the ring. It fit perfectly. You guys continued your lunch. The two of you spent the whole afternoon out there. As you laid on illumi's chest you recognized a constellation.

Y/n: Rail me if I'm wrong, but that constellation is called the Big Dipper.
Illumi: Darling, that's Orion.

You grinned up at him.

28

Its been a month since the proposal and you're finally getting your dress. Hisoka insisted on coming. He wanted to help you find a dress that went with the corset he gave you. (Idk he would just do that)

You exited the dressing room in a beautiful flowy gown. It exposed most of your back. He gestured towards you so he could get the corset on you. As he went to enclose the corset on your back, he noticed a faded scar of illumis name. He chuckled a little and finished tying it.

Hisoka: Wonderful~
Y/n: What do you think mom?
Kikyo: It's beautiful, dear.

Mito hadn't talked to you since you explained that you had run off and fallen in love with an assassin and became one yourself. The Zoldycks felt like the last family you had left. Gon had agreed to come and so did Leorio and Kurapika. You had the family promise they wouldn't steal Killua back if he attended and they all swore on their careers. So killua had also rsvp'd.

The wedding spot was decided to be the clearing in the forest where you guys had trained and had your first date. You made your way home. When you walked inside you greeted Illumi with a kiss on the cheek and made your way down the hall. You had to ask a favor of Silva. You knocked on his door.

Silva: Come in.

You walked inside the terrifyingly dark and eerie room and stood before him.

Y/n: May I ask a favor of you?
Silva: Of course.

He patted the seat and gestured for you to sit beside him. You walked over and sat beside him. You fidgeted with your engagement ring embarrassed to ask the question.

Silva: What is it child?
Y/n: uh I was wondering if y-you could walk me uh down the uh aisle next week... my father doesn't know I even exist... you don't have to.
Silva: Well I was actually going to regardless if you asked me to.

He smiled at you and opened his arms as if to ask for a hug. You went in for a hug and he squeezed you tightly. That was the first fatherly hug you'd ever experienced. You got choked up and let a tear or two roll.

Y/n: Thank you so much.

29

Kikyo: If you continue sweating dear this dress won't fit you anymore.
Y/n: oh sorry. I'm just so nervous, Jesus, this is terrifying.

Kalluto actually gave you a hug and nodded as he followed Kikyo to go get their seats. You wiped your sweat and calmed yourself down. Shortly later, Silva greeted you. He reached out his arm and you linked onto it.

You rounded the corner and your heeled shoe gave out for a moment but you quickly recovered yourself from it. The wedding organ played as you smoothly made your way down the aisle. On one side of the "audience" was the Zoldyck family including a small girl you'd never seen before. Hisoka stood beside your fiancé as his best man of course. Your side of the guests only consisted of the 4 that "rescued" you two years ago.

You stepped under the arch that'd been crafted beautifully out of vines, twigs and roses and stood before Illumi. Silva took his seat as Grandpa Zeno made his way up to get the two of you married. He said a bunch of random legal marriage stuff and all that.

Zeno: Do you take Illumi Zoldyck to be your lawfully wedded husband?
Y/n: Of course I do.
Zeno: and do you take (y/n)(l/n) to be your lawfully wedded wife?
Illumi: Yes.
Zeno: You may kiss the bride now.

Illumis lips crashed into yours. He'd never kissed you like this in front of anyone. His hand wrapped around your waist and pulled you tight to him. You passionately kissed him back. You didn't want this to ever end.

Killua: That's enough!

You broke apart and caught your breath. Illumi squeezed your hand and actually smiled again.

~-~-~-~-~-~-

Back inside the house the reception was being held. It was very lowkey and mostly consisted of everyone enjoying tea and everyone losing in arm wrestling against Silva. (And milluki and Killua arguing) You sat on the settee with your new husband. It was in the back of the room and everyone seemed too busy to notice the two of you.

You brushed your lips against his but didn't really kiss him. He tried to kiss you back except you moved to breath on his neck right below his ear. He pulled you onto his lap. He tucked some hair behind his ear and tried to go in on your neck. You turned your head and had your lips barely touching his.

Y/n: Something the matter darling?
Illumi: I insist you keep it up, I bet you'd regret it when all these people see the way you get.

You whisper argued for a moment before you stood up and went to rejoin all of the people you now and have called family.

30

Roughly a year later your first child was born. You had named him after Kite, a man you deeply respected and trusted. Illumi was the perfect father he spent as much time as possible with the boy which made you a little jealous.

One night Kite had successfully fallen asleep finally giving you time with your husband. You took his hair out of the bun he wore often to keep the boy from pulling it. Running your hands through it and breathing on his neck softly. He freed himself from your hands to look at you.

Illumi: isn't it a little early for a repeat darling?

You giggled as he pulled you close pressing one hand to the fresh scar of his name on your back. He pulled your cheek close to his mouth as he planted a nice swift kiss on your cheek.

The end simps 😎

Authors Note

Hi lol yeah so that was my first story :p uh but the next one a write will be a bit better organized. I'm thinking about doing one piece or death note idk. But what anime should watch and write about next? And which character too? Sorry if I didn't a specific personality right I finished hunterxhunter like a year ago :/

Update!!!

How would y'all feel if I made a discord? To chat and for ideas/ requests on my next story??
